

Important AP Exam Updates

- For the 2019-20 exam administration only, students can take a 45-minute online exam at home.
- Some students may want to take the exam sooner rather than later, while the content is still fresh. Other students may want more time to practice. For each AP subject, there will be two different testing dates. These dates will be released April 3, 2020.
- The full exam schedule, specific free-response question types that will be on each AP exam, and additional testing details will be available by April 3. College Board will also unlock any relevant free-response questions in AP Classroom for digital use so students can access all practice questions of the type that will appear on the exam.
- To be fair to all students, some of whom have lost more instructional time than others, the exam will only include topics and skills most AP teachers and students have already covered in class by early March.
- Colleges support this solution and are committed to ensuring that AP students receive the credit they've worked this year to earn. For decades, colleges have accepted a shortened AP Exam for college credit when groups of students have experienced emergencies.
- Students will be able to take these streamlined exams on any device they have access to—computer, tablet, or smartphone. Taking a photo of handwritten work will also be an option.
- College Board recognizes that the digital divide could prevent some low-income and rural students from participating. If you need mobile tools or connectivity, contact Ms. Wright immediately so she can reach out to College Board.
- The exam questions are designed in ways that prevent cheating. College Board uses a range of digital security tools and techniques, including plagiarism detection software, to protect the integrity of the exams.
